PREMIER SUFFERS DEFEAT; HON. R. H. POOLEY ELECTED

Norman W. Whittaker Establishes Decisive Lead to Win Seat in Saanich—Attorney-General Is Ahead in Spirited Race With C. E. Whitney-Griffiths in Esquimalt Riding

Saanich Voters Record Largest Poll in History

CAUGHT in a four-way contest in his home riding, under the influence of a marked swing to Liberal candidates, Premier Tolmie suffered defeat in Saanich yesterday at the hands of Norman W. Whittaker, Liberal nominee, who established a lead of 326 in one of the largest polls ever recorded in the area. At a late hour last evening, Attorney-General R. H. Pooley was maintaining his lead in Esquimalt riding over Whitney-Griffiths, Liberal, by a margin of fifty-three votes, with one poll, Otter Point, yet to be reported.

Premier Tolmie established a fair margin over Mr. Whittaker in Saanich in three wards, Three, Five and Six, but failed to hold this gain when the remaining four wards were counted in. The final unofficial standing gave the Liberal candidate 2,122 ballots, against 1,796 for Dr. Tolmie, a majority of 326 for Mr. Whittaker.

The standing of the four candidates was reported at a late hour last evening as follows: Norman W. Whittaker (Liberal), 2,122; Premier Tolmie (Unionist), 1,796; W. E. Peirce (C.C.F.), 1,193, and Reeve William Crouch (Independent), 484.

ELECTION CONCEDED

This count is subject to minor variation only, when absentee ballots outside the area are weighed in. The standing of the candidates will not be affected, and Mr. Whittaker's election is conceded.

A record high poll of 5,595 ballots was cast, Mr. Whittaker taking the lead from the start of the counting and holding it substantially throughout. The Saanich voters' list contained 7,505 names, nearly 80 per cent of whom went to the polls.

SAANICH RESULTS

The results by wards, subject to final correction, was as follows:

	Crouch	Peirce	Tolmie	Whittaker
Ward One	58	195	211	302
Ward Two	113	219	319	483
Ward Three	38	81	246	162
Ward Four	59	180	300	381
Ward Five	26	141	192	164
Ward Six	46	107	247	170
Ward Seven	144	270	281	460
Totals	484	1,193	1,796	2,122

Voting in Saanich yesterday morning was so light that poll officials were unprepared for the great rush in the early and late afternoon. A particularly heavy vote was cast under the absentee ballot system for points elsewhere in the province, particulars of which were wired at once to the areas concerned. Absentee reports of ballots cast for Saanich candidates dribbled in to W. H. Carr, returning officer for the area, but little affecting the result.

Due to a misunderstanding on the part of some poll officers, the official summary in only three wards could be obtained. The press summary, however, is believed correct within narrow margin.

U.S. Inaugurates Secret Operation Of Gold Purchase

Paris Not Divulging Amount Bought and Prices Paid—Washington Officially Ignorant of Purchases by Federal Reserve Bank—No Signs at London of Definite Move

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (AP).—Surrounding its operation with a wall of secrecy, the United States Government today put President Roosevelt's plan of buying gold abroad to work at the task of raising prices at home. While Paris dispatches told of first purchases on the bullion market there, officials said under no circumstances would the amount bought and prices paid be divulged except in intermittent announcements summarizing the activities over periods of time.

OFFICIAL IGNORANCE

The Federal Reserve Bank at New York has been given a virtual power of attorney to make the purchases for the Government through whatever channels it deems fit, and authorities here are maintaining an attitude of official ignorance of what the bank is doing.

It was intimated, however, the New York institution was dealing through some member bank or banks with branches abroad. These would buy gold in foreign markets and sell to the Reserve Bank, receiving in return notes of the Government-backed Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which are readily convertible into cash.

OFFERS TO BUY

In addition, the Reconstruction Corporation has offered to buy imported gold in unlimited quantities, paying also in notes. This method of payment has been applied for a week to purchases of newly-mined domestic gold, more than 66,000 ounces of which has been received at a total price of more than $1,100,000.

Officials were gratified to note with the starting of the foreign

STRIKES CAUSE MUCH DISORDER

Bombings, Riots, Shootings and Arrests Are Reported From Many Points

NEW YORK, Nov. 3 (AP).—Outbreaks of violence that brought shootings, bombings, property destruction, injuries and many arrests came, yesterday, in both agricultural and industrial strikes. Dynamite demolished a cheese factory in the milk strike zone, near Port Washington, Wis., the fourth bombing in two days. Two men were shot and five women and children injured by flying stones in a coal miners' riot at Plains, Pa. The disorders came, despite efforts of State and Federal officials to settle the difficulties.

Attorney-General Wins Esquimalt

HON. R. H. POOLEY, K.C.
Unionist candidate in Esquimalt riding, who was returned as a member of the Legislature with a small majority, only one small poll to hear from. Otter Point, Mr. Pooley has a majority of fifty-three over his nearest opponent, C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, Liberal.

EMERGENCY IS DECLARED

Governor of Malta Dismisses
Nationalist Ministry
From Office

VALETTA, Malta, Nov. 2 (CP).—Malta, tiny but important British possession in a strategic position in the Mediterranean, yesterday tonight was deprived of responsible government, her Nationalist ministry dismissed from office by the Governor and commander-in-chief, Sir David Campbell.

The Governor dissolved the Maltese Parliament and proclaimed a state of emergency, declaring all governmental matters on the island "will be reserved while the emergency lasts."

"GRAVELY CONCERNED"

The action was taken because the British Government was "gravely concerned" at the policies at issue by the Government, which went into office following the Nationalist victory in the general elections of June, 1932. These elections were called after parliamentary systems had been withheld for two years in consequence of the dispute between the Nationalist Government and the Vatican, but the language problem remained a knotty one.

The Nationalists, under Sir Hugo Dimech, were dismissed from office.

OAK BAY GETS REDUCED RATE

Minimum Annual Saving on Fire Insurance Amounts to $52,500

Reductions in the fire insurance rates to Oak Bay, amounting approximately to $52,500, were announced at yesterday's meeting of the council by Reeve R. W. Mayhew.

The new rates affect the area north of Estevan Avenue, which includes the Uplands and Gonsalves Heights residential districts. This area is about half the area of the municipality.

The British Columbia Insurance Underwriters' Association, in a letter to the council, said that a rate of 50 cents per $100 per year would be put into effect throughout the entire municipality, and that the new rate was retroactive to November 1 of this year.

MINIMUM SAVING

Since there are 400 homes in the affected area insured with board companies, this new rate effects a saving of at least $52,500. If the value of the homes is based on the average cost of construction revealed by this year's building permits. However, it is possible the annual saving will be greater than $52,500, since two of the districts affected are the locations for homes of the more palatial type, ranging from $15,000 to $50,000 in value.

The old rates were from 55 cents to 65 cents per $100 per year. It is expected that non-board companies will fall into line.

Reeve Mayhew, in making the announcement, said that the reduction had been given in view of the improvement made in the fire-fighting system provided Oak Bay by the city for an annual fee; certain improvements made to the Oak Bay water distribution system, and the decision to connect the system with the new twenty-inch feeder main, thus boosting the pressure throughout the higher levels.

Party Standings Show Immensity Of Big Victory

WITH only two polls to hear from the official standing of the parties at an early hour this morning was:

Unionist	1
Independent	1
Non-Partisan	1

MESSAGES ARE GIVEN

T. D. Pattullo, Premier
Tolmie and N. W. Whittaker Issue Statements

"The people have spoken and I think I appreciate what they have said," T. D. Pattullo, leader of the Liberal party, declared in giving an official statement to the electorate last night.

"I am deeply grateful for the confidence expressed. I realize the responsibilities involved and I am sure that all our people will render sympathetic assistance," he concluded.

When it was definitely conceded that the next Government would be a Liberal one, Mr. Pattullo proceeded from his office in the Central Building to the Liberal headquarters on Government Street, where nearly 500 persons were assembled.

There he addressed the gathering and expressed his thanks to the supporters who had worked so hard in the Liberal cause. He paid high tribute to Major S. F. M. Moodie, Liberal organizer for the Province.

Over the radio he addressed the entire Province, stating that "while all returns are not in, there are sufficient to indicate a sweeping verdict."

FACE GRAVE PROBLEMS

"I am deeply appreciative of what is meant by what the people have said through this vote. Grave responsibilities face the Government."

STRIKE VEIN IN CARIBOO MINE

Important Development at Depth Justifies Belief in Value of Deposits

VANCOUVER, Nov. 2 (CP).—First of the famous Sanders group of veins in the Cariboo has been struck by the Cariboo Gold Quartz Company, it was announced today by Fred M. Wells, general manager, and Dr. W. B. Burnett, president of the company.

Mr. Wells showed samples of the new ore.

The vein shows between three and four feet in width and was reached about 2,200 feet from the mouth of the tunnel at a depth of more than 600 feet from the surface.

The mining men declared the quartz is of the heavy sulphide type, "impregnated with tellurides and with free gold visible."

"This is the most important development at the mine for many months, proving definitely that the celebrated Sanders group of veins persists at depth," Mr. Wells stated.

"It culminates seven and a half years of intensive effort on the part of the company and justifies the belief I have held for more than twenty years."

ROBBERS USE BANK OFFICIALS AS SHIELD

OKMULGEER, Okla., Nov. 2 (AP).—Five men robbed the Citizens' National Bank of Okmulgee of between $15,000 and $20,000 today, and escaped in an automobile. Two bank officials, kidnapped to shield the robbers, were released within a few blocks of the bank.

Labor Registers Sweeping Gain in Municipal Voting

Wins Net Advance of 176 Seats in Elections Held Throughout England—National Conservatives
Suffer Biggest Losses—Two Conservative
M.P.'s Meet Defeat in Municipalities

LONDON, Nov. 2 (CP).—Net gains of no fewer than 176 seats for Labor in the municipal elections held throughout England tonight swept some concern into the ranks of National Conservatives, especially as the Labor victory came on top of the smashing Labor win in the by-election in Conservative Fulham last week.

It was understood at the Cabinet meeting held at Downing Street this afternoon the Prime Minister stressed that the Government should lose no time in stating its policy in the European crisis. Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, will state the Government's case on the reassembling of Parliament, November 7. Disarmament figured largely in the platform of the successful Labor candidate in East Fulham.

WAITING FOR SPEECH

After Sir John has spoken for the Government after Parliament reopens, the Labor members will decide whether to launch a vote of censure. In the voting for one-third of the council seats in cities and towns throughout England and Wales (with the exception of London) yesterday, Labor made sweeping gains at the expense of Conservatives for the most part, though Liberals and Independents also suffered. Out of 919 seats reported to-night, Labor took 444; Conservatives, 234; Liberals, 93 and Independents, 148.

The Conservatives alone suffered

Defeats Premier in Saanich Riding

NORMAN W. WHITTAKER
New Liberal member for Saanich in the British Columbia Legislature. He was victorious yesterday over Premier Tolmie in Saanich, having a majority of 326 votes.

Will Return If Results Likely

PARIS, Nov. 2 (CP).—Norman H. Davis, United States delegate to the World Disarmament Conference, today assured French authorities he would return for the December meeting of the conference if President Roosevelt felt the party was likely to produce some result.

FAMOUS DOCTOR DIES

LONDON, Nov. 2 (AP).—Sir George Henry Makins, eighty, died today after a long medical career which included war service and activities in Red Cross work and cancer research.

With Six Seats to Be Filled in Three Weeks, New Government Will Have Large Margin Over
All Others—C.C.F., With Six Seats,
Forms Official Opposition

LIBERALS, under the leadership of T. Dufferin Pattullo, former Minister of Lands in the Oliver and McLean Governments, swept to power at the polls, yesterday. With six candidates yet to be elected in the deferred contests of Victoria City and Vancouver Centre, the victory, without these seats was such as to give a clear and overwhelming majority in the Legislature.

Premier S. F. Tolmie, leading an endeavor to form a Unionist Government, was personally swept aside, and only one of his followers, Hon. R. H. Pooley, was elected. Mr. Pooley has a narrow lead over C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, with one small poll, at Otter Point, to hear from. His election is conceded.

Of members of the Conservative Government elected with thirty-five seats in the election of 1928, only R. W. Bruhn, running as a Non-Partisan candidate, survived with Mr. Pooley. Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, went down to defeat as an Independent, while W. A. McKenzie, former Minister of Mines, was also beaten, by his Liberal opponent.

Hon. W. M. Dennes and Hon. William Savage, two recently-appointed ministers in the Tolmie Unionist Administration, were hopelessly defeated in Vancouver.

C.C.F. OFFICIAL OPPOSITION

While the recognized leaders of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation failed to enter the Legislature, the newly-created Socialistic party elected sufficient adherents to constitute them the Official Opposition in the next House.

At midnight the standing of the parties showed: Liberals, 29; C.C.F., 6; Unionist, 1; Independent, 1; Non-Partisan, 1; Labor, 1. Two seats were still in doubt, with the probability of them going Liberal.

The Non-Partisan Group, a collection of personal followers and independents who had grouped themselves together under the leadership of the late W. J. Bowser, K.C., only succeeded in electing one representative, R. W. Bruhn (Salmon Arm). In other constituencies they were not given much support. Du-gald Donaghy, looked upon as the leader of the forces following the lamented demise of Mr. Bowser, was hopelessly beaten in Vancouver-Point Grey, where he lost by more than 6,000 votes.

C.C.F. LEADERS BEATEN

Dr. Lyle Telford, leader of the C.C.F. movement, who was regarded as having an opportunity in Alberni-Nanaimo by his party, went down before George S. Pearson, who formerly represented the single seat of Nanaimo in the last House. Arnold Hanna, who relinquished his candidature in Alberni in order to let Mr. Pearson seek election in the combined ridings, ran successfully in Comox, defeating the C.C.F. candidate, Rev. H. T. Allen, and several Independents.

W. A. Pritchard, who with Dr. Telford, was looked upon as the spearhead of the C.C.F. movement in the province, was badly defeated in Vancouver-Point Grey.

Two Vancouver seats, however, went in favor of the new Socialistic party in no uncertain manner, H. E. Winch and John Price having huge majorities in the dual representation for Vancouver East. North Vancouver also dropped its adherence to the Conservative cause in the last House, and elected H. C. E. Anderson on a C.C.F. ticket in an eight-cornered fight.

The C.C.F. did not gain the strength expected in the Okanagan. Dr. K. C. MacDonald, Liberal, captured the riding of North Okanagan, which he formerly represented in the House during the previous Liberal regime. In South Okanagan one of the hardest contested battles of the whole contest was fought between Hon. J. W. Jones, veteran of the Legislature and Minister of Finance, running as an Independent, and Dr. Allan Harris, saw the younger man elected. Dr. Harris, the Liberal candidate, has had a brilliant career as a scientist, being credited with the discovery of a new element.

Tom Uphill, veteran Labor representative from Fernie, once more carried that constituency by a wide margin. He refused to align himself with the C.C.F., but was not opposed by that organization. His battle against Mayor Douglas, of Fernie, was watched keenly.

OPPOSED CONFISCATION

The mining regions of British Columbia, as was expected, went solidly against the confiscation threats of the C.C.F., and returned a Liberal majority throughout. It was anticipated that E. C. Carson, former Conservative and running as an Independent, stood a chance to retain his seat at Lillooet, but here too the miners and cattlemen who had supported him in 1928 threw their weight in favor of the Liberals.

In Mackenzie riding, the Coast constituency, the election of Ernest Bakewell, C.C.F., was not expected generally. It was known that the fight in that district was between John MacGregor, V.C., an Independent, and Bakewell, but predictions were in favor of the veteran. Henry Castillou, Vancouver lawyer, was not conceded a chance of victory.

With the retirement from politics of J. H. Schofield, who represented the riding in the Legislature for twenty-six years in the interests of the Conservative party, the election of R. R. Burns, Liberal, gives the first change in that constituency for more than a quarter of a century.

The defeat of Alex Paterson, regarded as one of the strong men of the Liberal party in British Columbia, by R. B. Swales, C.C.F., was another surprise of the night. Six candidates sought the honor of representing the district, and the vote was badly split.

The re-election of Dr. W. H. Sutherland, Liberal, Columbia-Revelstoke, was regarded in the first returns from that district as a certain indication of the Liberal landslide, as reports had stated that he would have a hard fight to win over Vincent

MOVIE STARS SOUTHBOUND

Sets Prepared for "The Black Robe," Second Film to Be Made Here

Nick Stuart and Lucille Brown, stars of "The Crimson West," first full-length feature motion picture to be produced in Victoria, left for Seattle, yesterday afternoon, en route to Hollywood. Kenneth J. Bishop, producer; Robert Hill, director; Mrs. Selden Humphries, Miss Laura Dunsmuir, Miss Laura Audain, Robert P. Webb and others of the company were at the boat to bid them farewell.

Immediately following their departure, Mr. Bishop started arrangements for the next picture to be produced under contract by the Commonwealth Productions, Ltd.

Mr. Bishop will leave for Vancouver tonight, to complete arrangements for the premiere showing of "The Crimson West" in Vancouver, and then go on to Hollywood to supervise the final details in connection with the cutting and editing of the film.

While Mr. Bishop is in Hollywood, Mrs. Humphries will be in charge of the studios here, having been appointed as Mr. Bishop's deputy for the next picture, "The Black Robe," a story written by Guy Morton, a Canadian author, will be erected and put in readiness for the return of Nick Stuart, and probably Lucille Brown, early in December.

Segur, C.C.F., but this he did with a comfortable margin.

When the Legislature assembled, only one Liberal who sat in the Seventeenth Parliament will be missing. He is H. F. Kergin, who failed to obtain the nomination of his party in Allyn, and ran against the official Liberal candidate, W. J. Aseltine, who was elected in a contest in which five names were before the electors.

The other stalwarts of the Liberal forces who supported Mr. Pattullo in the last House will be with him again. Alex. Manson, former Attorney-General, had an easy victory in Omicene over several candidates, including L. D. Taylor, Mayor of Vancouver.

Hugh Savage, who contested Cowichan-Newcastle as an Independent, using as his campaign platform the Four Absolutes of the Oxford movement, provided a surprise by the decisive manner in which he carried the riding.

WASHINGTON IS INUNDATED BY RAINFALL

Seattle Suffers Severely From Storm Sweeping In From Ocean

HOUSE IS TOPPLED DOWN 350-FT. BANK

SEATTLE, Nov. 2 (CP).—Caught in the centre of a storm area sweeping eastward off the Pacific, Western Washington experienced heavy rain today, with a rainfall here of almost two and one-half inches within the past twenty-four hours. Rain was still falling tonight.

The heaviest rain fell here between 12:25 and 1:25 p.m., with a quarter of an inch coming down, and in the twelve hours ending at 5 p.m., 1.68 inches of water had fallen.

DAMAGE IN CITY
Basements were flooded, pavements undermined and several small slides occurred. Overstated storm cinders undermined the pavement on Queen Anne Hill, and the counter-balance trolley service was disrupted, probably for several days, officials said.

Virtually all of Western Washington was hit, and the State Highway Department officials closed the Stevens Pass Highway over the Cascades, above Skykomish, after slides had occurred.

HOUSE GOES OVER
A house toppled down a 350-foot bank here, and the two occupants, Hans Glyland and his wife, Amanda, unable to escape, were cut and bruised.

Road crews watched rising rivers, but no washouts or bad slides had been reported tonight.

SAAR PROTESTS NAZI ACTIVITIES

Protection Demanded From Hitler Terrorists in Saar Province on Inhabitants of Area

SAARBRUECKEN, Saar Basin Territory, Nov. 2 (AP).—Attacks on Nazi activities in the Saar Basin came from two sources today, the League of Nations' Saar commission and the Free Saar Front, composed of leaders who opposed the annexation of the territory to Germany.

The front protested against "Hitler terrorism" and demanded protection against "terroristic" pressure on the inhabitants, who, in 1935, will decide whether to remain semi-autonomous, return to Germany, or be annexed to France.

The League commission sent six decrees to curb Hitlerite activities in the basin to the Ladersatz, whose function is purely advisory, since the commission has the power to enforce the measures with the Ladersatz's approval.

A SWEEPING LIBERAL VICTORY

The result of yesterday's election was forecast by the swing of public sentiment during the last few weeks of the campaign. Mr. T. D. Pattullo and his party are returned to power with a sweeping majority, and without the aid of the constituencies of Victoria and Vancouver Centre where the election has been deferred. The triumph is a complete one for the Liberals are ready assured of a majority over all other parties combined. That means, despite predictions made during the campaign, that the people have not lost faith in party government. They have, in fact, chosen party in the face of every possible appeal made to them to renounce political divisions and espouse non-partisanship or independence.

The character of the Liberal victory was undoubtedly made possible by the defection of the Conservative Party as an organized unit in the election. The Liberals will be the first to acknowledge this. The people saw in a united party, well organized, and with a platform which contained the attempt to bring about a Socialist scheme of Government. They were not concerned with the fact that the latter scheme would have been impossible under the limitations of provincial autonomy, but they visualized such a spread of social legislation as would have doubled and perhaps trebled the taxation they now have to endure. Consequently it is obvious that many persons, not heretofore Liberals, recorded their ballots for the candidates of that party. Despite confused political thinking, that party, as well, maintained the loyalty of its own followers to a very great extent. It has recorded a most significant victory at the polls.

From the standpoint of the public generally it is a matter for congratulation that there will be no coalition government composed of varying, and, perhaps, dissident elements. Such a condition might very well have led to compromise and vacillation, and what it would undoubtedly have led to would have been difference of opinion over leadership and the composition of a cabinet. Such dissensions are obviated by the return of the Liberals to power. They will go into office as a united party with an overwhelming majority, which may very well receive acclamation from the results of the deferred elections become known.

The new Government will have a difficult task, but no more difficult than that which confronted the Conservatives when they took office in 1928, under Dr. S. F. Tolmie, and found a very much depleted Treasury. The Liberals in their campaign utterances concentrated on promises of providing work and wages; in other words, doing away with the unemployment problem. That, then, is their immediate task. It is a difficult one, unless to the extent that they are assisted by the general recovery in business conditions that is in progress. Everyone, however, will wish them well. They have public opinion behind them to a very considerable extent as shown at the polls, and they will have it, too, in every constructive effort they make to solve the unemployment problem.

The candidates of the Non-Partisan group, of the Independents and of the United Front failed badly. The lesson of the election is one that should impress itself on the people, and especially on those who are seeking to foster revolutionary policies. It is the lesson that the people of British Columbia believe in party government, for most assuredly there is no other interpretation to be placed on their verdict at the polls. Any other belief that verdict might inspire is due to prejudice. The comparative lack of success which attended the candidates of the Canadian Commonwealth Federation Party was due to a variety of causes, but chiefly because Socialism was their creed. In attempting to define what Socialism meant they went a good deal too far. Their publicity was of a jejune character; their lack of all efforts to attempt to explain how they would accomplish what they sought persuaded the people that they were opportunists who had no cut and dried plan in view.

In view of the character of the victory no one ship can fail to extend congratulations to Mr. Pattullo and his party. That party in the campaign stood definitely as the buffer against Socialism. It withstood the attack not only in an emphatic way, but proved conclusively that the attempt in the province, as well, to get away from party government was an abject failure. The Liberal triumph under the circumstances is the only sure way of having stable government in the province under a united party. It was the character of the campaign that was pursued, the break up of political alignments, the infusion of Independents, and of groups that hardly deserve the names of parties, and lastly and most significant of all the withdrawal of the Conservatives from the arena, that made such an overwhelming Liberal success possible. It would have been better perhaps if a more substantial number of opposition candidates had been elected. That, however, can only be proved by time. Mr. Pattullo now has the opportunity of making good the promises contained in his platform, which constituted such a strong appeal to the electorate.

THE RESULT IN SAANICH

While congratulating Mr. Norman Whitaker on his victory in Saanich in yesterday's provincial election regret must be felt in many quarters that Dr. S. F. Tolmie has failed to secure a seat in the Legislature. Mr. Whitaker won handsomely and Dr. Tolmie made a good fight, with the tide of public opinion running so stoutly in favor of the Liberals. There is no doubt whatever of the honesty of the Premier's convictions in having pursued his course of favoring a Union Government. There were many who believed that such an administration became an impossibility to Mr. Pattullo had refused to be a party to it. Dr. Tolmie, however, persisted in his course and it has remained for the electorate to say that party government is what is favored.

Dr. Tolmie loses nothing in personal popularity by the course he has pursued during his five years in office. It was a difficult period, the most difficult that any administration has had in this province since the inception of party government. It is undoubted that the Tolmie Administration was honest in all its efforts. It was a time for retrenchment. The Government on the problem of unemployment and concentration on the problem of unemployment. The Government, with falling revenues, with large capital obligations and with mental unrest being displayed, had to mark time. It was foomed to defeat with public opinion what it was.

"PIRATES" OF INVERGORDON

Large headlines in the press of this continent a few weeks ago gave information of a reported mutiny among the sailors of H.M.S. Hood. This was denied at once by the Admiralty. The love of sensationalism, however, made the story seem of first class importance although no details whatever were made available in the dispatches. Now the explanation has come, but its arrival had to be awaited through the British mists. The story, a fanciful one from the beginning, arose out of naval training exercises in which marines and seamen masqueraded as pirates. Vice-Admiral James says that marines and members of the crew were ashore at Invergordon and that the former were delegated to represent the party of pirates who were "obstreperous." When the people of Invergordon observed these alleged pirates being rounded up they jumped to the conclusion that something in the nature of mutiny had occurred. There were four cutter loads of seamen representing pirates landed at Nigg, in Cromarty Firth. Two drifters belonging to H.M.S. Hood and H.M.S. Renown steamed past Nigg, and the "pirates" put out in their cutters and captured the drifters. The "pirates" then retreated to Nigg and the Hood, and the Renown landed large parties of marines to deal with them. The marines attacked the "pirates," rounded them up and brought them captive to the boats. Thus, when the inhabitants saw sailors being chased by marines with fixed bayonets, the "unrest" story started. The old habit prevails of spreading rumor dealing with evil which increases with travel and gains strength by its progress.

THE SOWER

"Behold the sower, with his hands spread wide,
Goes forth to scatter precious seed that died,
Buried in earth and clay;
Lost to the gaze and to the memory gone,
There, there it lies all undisturbed, alone,
Waiting the coming day.

"Sleep on in peace, ye slumbering seeds of truth,
Gathered and sown in days of buoyant youth,
Embedded in the mind;
The day of hope and signs of life appear;
And soon the blade, then the full corn in ear,
Shall wave before the wind."
—John Thurman, in "Some Products of an Open Mind."

BEAUTY

Beauty is a form of Divine speech; it reveals God to man. . . . Nor is God seen alone in the beauty of the natural world, in cloud and mountain, snow and vapor, green and forest and sea. Every artist in words or color or sound reveals something of His wisdom and power. The preacher and the theologian may reveal Him, too, though sometimes they pervert His likeness. His ministers are not a close corporation of ordained clergy. Raphael is among them, and Millet, and Burne-Jones. Not David only, but Palestrina and Beethoven and Elgar sound His praise. And every builder of our stately cathedrals, and every humble workman who with heart and hand creates as best he can the meanest vessel that ministers to man's daily needs, are His artists and fellow-workmen.—F. J. Gillman.

SOLITUDE

In solitude the mind gains strength and learns to lean on itself; in the world it seeks or accepts of a few treacherous supports—the feigned compassion of one, the flattery of a second, the civilities of a third, the friendship of a fourth—they all deceive, and bring the mind back to retirement, reflection and books.—Sterne.

One's own heart is the best place in which to slay the things of life that really matter.—Rudyard Kipling.

The fame of Victoria's sea serpent has spread to far distant parts of the earth. Dispatches describing the appearance and the ways and manners of the reptile (or whatever it may be) have been published in many of the leading newspapers of the world. Even the editors of those papers have commented upon the brief appearances and the long disappearances of the shy creature in our local waters, and indulged in biological speculations as to whether the stranger were "fish, flesh, or good red herring."

One authority has accepted the "serpent" as a fact and not a creation of imagination, but has declared that the visitor is not a reptile at all, but a conger eel. We are sceptical upon that point, however, for as there are no fresh water eels in the waters of the Pacific Coast, we question whether there are any conger eels in the salt waters of the Pacific Ocean.

All of which reminds us of the thrilling story of which the late Ned Kelly was the hero. Ned was a sailor in the Royal Navy, and a diver, and after he was superannuated followed his trade in the service of the British Merchant Marine. There was a wreck somewhere along the coast, and Ned was sent down in his bell to make a special survey and report. Ned went down that once, but never again. After he came up for the last time he reported that he had been attacked by a conger eel as thick in the body as a horse, and with a tail that even an imaginative Irishman could not see the end of.

In case we should be charged with the unparadise literary crime of ending a sentence with a preposition, we tell the story as it was told to us.

At any rate, there is no doubt that when Ned was hauled up out of the depths and the helmet was taken off his head, all the hairs of that head was standing on end like the quills on the back of a porcupine. (A hunch, by the way, is a local name for a hedgehog). Now Ned was a bold Irishman, and his retirement from the trade of a diver is a tribute to the fearsome appearance of a big conger eel. The story Ned told about the ferocity of the conger eel was confirmed by a fisherman who hooked a small conger somewhere along the same coast. That captured member of the eel family was merely an infant. It was about six or seven feet long and four inches in diameter. When we saw its head had been nearly severed from its body, and its body was hacked and gashed in many places. It must have had more lives than any cat, and it fought the fisherman who caught it with all the fury of any of the big cats of the jungle.

There are several reasons why our famous sea serpent cannot be a fish of the sinuous eel tribe, but must be a mammal. One reason is that no living reptile is equipped with the head of a camel or a horse. Another reason is that no fresh or salt water eel ever shows its head above the water or crawls out of its natural element to suit itself in which its head had been nearly severed from its body. The creature is a land animal, and its head is a head of a camel or a horse. It is a mammal, and its head is a head of a camel or a horse. It is a mammal, and its head is a head of a camel or a horse.

One of the peculiarities of man is that he is deeply interested in all kinds of mysterious phenomena. The editors of newspapers know that and cater abundantly to the characteristic. That, no doubt, is why a seditious and conservative paper as The Christian Science Monitor appears to have accepted our serpent as a fact and commented with becoming gravity upon its appearances and movements. We notice that editors of newspapers in the vast continental interior, who are far removed from the mysteries of the big waters which ebb and flow with the regularity that characterizes the movements of the planets, if they cannot exploit whales and sharks and serpents for publicity purposes, make the most of their natural environment.

Have you not read stories about the celebrated wolves of the Soo, which do not partake at all of the ravenous nature of their relatives of Russia, which at one time thought nothing of pulling down the three horses hitched to the sleigh of a nobleman, devouring them first and the driver and the nobleman afterwards. The wolves of the Soo are gentle creatures, which take part in the social life of the community and protect the lives of the children when in danger from the raids of hungry bears.

The editor of the Soo newspaper has become a world celebrity because of the intriguing way in which he has made stories which seemed incredible credible. There is the story, for example, of the wild bear which grabbed a cow by the tail and left the bereft creature "scarce a stump," like Maggie, Tam o' Shanter's mare. The Soo newspaper has an advantage over our newspaper. It has no need to prove the existence of wolves and bears. Everybody knows that there are wolves and bears; that they are not merely figments of the imagination. It is not so easy to prove the benignity of the disposition or the gentleness of the characteristics of the animals.

So far as I can analyze all plans it seems that there has been no improvements shown to the policies adopted by the Tolmie Government. The securing of new markets gives a permanent solution without cost to the taxpayers, and gives work with wages. It does not load the country with unemployed men.

C.F. AND COMMONS

Sir,—So many and so serious were the mistakes made last Sunday in the printing of my letter that I herewith accept your offer to publish it, as was printed, "all four."
(1) The title should have been as above.
(2) I said, "Supporting all forty-seven seats," not "with the C.F.C.," not "as was printed," "all four."
(3) "Women object to the way some politicians speak of them as 'bitches,'" I have my opinion, and your substitution of the word "to" for "of" would create an impression which none of our politicians (one excepted) deserve.
(4) "... which under more Christian regime we pray to exterminate." The word "mere" which your printer considered more suitable than "more"—conveys a very different meaning, besides being ungrammatical.
Those were the worst mistakes.

TRIBUTE TO LATE MR. W. J. BOWSER

Sir,—It is my duty to answer the letter of Mr. N. E. Fairweather in the Victoria Daily Times of Saturday, October 28, under the heading of "Petitions." At no time has the picture of Mr. Bowser been removed to a minor position in the Conserv. Building and it has never been moved "altogether from the walls." Any persons desiring to inspect the rooms in order to satisfy themselves in this matter may do so at any time.

The Conservative party is proud of a large number of very able and famous leaders and the association is fortunate in its possession of portraits of many of them. At the meeting of the executive of this association held last evening in the Campbell Building, a statue of Mr. Bowser was unveiled. The statue was a tribute to the memory of the late Mr. Bowser. R. H. HISCOCKS, Secretary, Victoria Conservative Association, Campbell Building, Victoria, B.C., November 2, 1933.

WORK AND WAGES

Sir,—May I amplify my letter which you published this morning? The maximum number of wages in 1929 was $8,140 and the minimum was $4,815, so that even in "good times" there were some 23,000 seasonally unemployed. As some of the political parties have pointed out in my last letter, employment in 1932 was reduced to 55,007, with the minimum at $4,435; so that by winter of 1932 the unemployed totalled some 82,700. To meet the unemployment of 1930 and 1931 the Provincial Government adopted the only sound policy that could have been adopted in the circumstances, namely, the securing of new markets to replace those lost, and, as an expedient, to wages in 1929 was $8,140 and the minimum was $4,815, so that even in "good times" there were some 23,000 seasonally unemployed. ## 'Slams and Salaams'

By H. T. M.

Who'll go to the next war? Some maintain that none will go willingly—or certainly none who had a taste of the last one. Others prophesy that the present "younger generation" that really knows little about what started and what was the last one, will go readily enough—and that's quite likely.

And somehow I've a notion that as soon as certain things happen—certain things that . . . well, let me try to show you what I'm driving at, through the minds and actions of two average young men of today. We may as well try and make "short story" out of it and call it.

WHAT MADE US?
September, 1933.—In a downtown club a young man stretched his legs and yawned. Into the newspaper that half hid him. Presently he raised his head and said to his friend who was loafing by the fireplace, "Dennis, what do you think of the probability of a war?"

"Hard to say," yawned Dennis. "Yes," agreed the first speaker, "suppose it is a bit difficult. But just suppose, one comes along. Do we go to it?"

Dennis eyed his friend sharply. "Not if I can possibly dodge the darn thing, Bill," he announced. "That last one was a dirty piece of work—and the rotten cause of it, and everything behind it, as far as I can see, was money, money, money."

"Sounded like that," Bill screwed up his left eye. "But do you think the average bloke realizes that, or even thinks that way?"

"Dunno," Dennis nibbled his lip. "Some do. Some don't. I'm not a piker," he digressed with sudden warmth, "and ethically I'm not a pacifist. But I do think it's pretty thick to have to strain your head down a howitzer, for the sake of a few pot-bellied politicians or 'huge interests,' etc., etc., or whatever it is. 'King and Country,' or even for the 'old homeland'—these days is just one of the more childish forms of ballyhoos—or am I crazy?"

"I think you're just about right," smiled Bill. "So we won't go 'til they yank us—is that the idea?" "Precisely," snapped Dennis. "They'll have to drag me by the tongue!"

FOUR YEARS PASSED, and in a downtown restaurant, Bill and Dennis were staring at a "banner of WAR DECLARED" across the front page of a "daily." Both sat silent, and they ate a stuffy meal, "old grey drifts from his cigarette," Dennis said sourly. "Huh! So it's arrived! What a monster piece of humor!"

"Yes," Bill echoed his friend's tone, "and now I suppose they'll go right to it?"

"Good luck to 'em," Dennis' upper lip curled in sarcasm. "And I hope they'll manage to get along happily without 'our Dennis'!"

"And without 'our Bill' either," his companion chimed in. "We're simply NOT going . . . are we?" "We are NOT!" Dennis stubbed his cigarette viciously on a side-table, and he and Bill, with coats and hats, the two stroled out.

A week later they stood on a broad and seemingly endless river of khaki. The scurrying of hob-nailed boots dined hastily on their ears. The hush of "regimental" were marching down to the boat.

This was the public's first sight of war's prologue, and the pavements were choked with the push of puzzled-looking citizens. They looked restless and irresolute. Presently the band blared up with "Tommy Atkins." Soberly the troops began whistling and humming it. Then they sang to it in full-throated harmony.

The crowd still looked puzzled. Suddenly somebody gave a cheer. Then a flag waved. Then more flags—more cheers. The populace seemed to have suddenly been freed from an abyss of uncertainty to burst into a bedlam of singing and wild cheering—and at this point Dennis tugged Bill's sleeve and dragged him away.

BANDITS ROB SEATTLE BANK

Staff Members and Customers Lined Up While Looting Proceeds

SEATTLE, Nov. 2 (AP).—An abandoned car, and excellent descriptions, police said, were clues on which they worked tonight to solve the hold-up of a branch of the First National Bank, near noon today, in which $2,500 was taken. Three of the bank's staff were on duty and they, along with two customers and another, who dropped in during the hold-up, were lined against a wall by one of the men. "They worked swiftly and quietly," Manager R. A. Plumber said later. Their abandoned car was found twenty minutes later on a nearby street.

One of the cardinal features of the settlement which permitted the restoration of parliamentary systems was that teaching of Italian should not be permitted in the elementary schools. The British Government charged the Government has deliberately evaded this clause. ## STRIKES CAUSE MUCH DISORDER

Five Corn Belt Governors, representing Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota and South Dakota, took the problems of the farm strike direct to President Roosevelt at Washington, demanding licensing of all farmers as a method of market control.

Leaders in the strike movement declared there would be no compromise from their demands for farm licensing, controlled inflation of the currency, and quick mortgage relief, carried to Washington by the Governor.

A strike of 800 workers in the W. L. Douglas Shoe Company at Brockton, Mass., continued, and a union official declared the entire N.R.A. programme to be endangered by "indecision and lack of courage of those in authority." He charged the National Labor Board, attempting to settle the strike, was "the biggest offender of all."

and the new Legislature, and it is our bounden duty to meet the situation by formulating measures and carrying out an administration truly beneficial to the people as a whole.

Mr. Pattullo again expressed his appreciation for all those who had worked in the Liberal cause. He was introduced as the Premier-elect by the announcer.

PREMIER TOLMIE
Premier Tolmie took defeat in the four-way contest in his own constituency of Saanich with the utmost sportsmanship, congratulating his successful opponent, Norman W. Whitaker, Liberal nominee. The Premier reserved his opinion in regard to the province as a whole, though complimenting T. D. Pattullo, leader of the Liberal party, on his personal success in Prince Rupert, and the apparent lead shown by Liberal forces in the first returns from the polls last evening.

The Premier said: "Let me thank the people of Saanich from the bottom of my heart for the confidence reposed in me in the past. My term of office, in so far as Saanich is concerned, has been a most happy one to me in the face of very great difficulties in these times for any Administration. One of the most painful things of my experience has been my inability to give work to our people."

CONGRATULATES VICTOR

"I am defeated on this occasion, but I want to congratulate the victor, Mr. Whitaker, and to wish him every success in public life. I do not feel unhappy in the circumstances, but I did not propose to run out in the face of adverse times. That was the only reason why I was a competitor on this occasion. However, the people have decided the matter for me, and have relieved me of my responsibilities. I accept their verdict in the best spirit and extend to the people of Saanich my best wishes for their prosperity and happiness."

"I want to thank workers, supporters and the representatives of

NORMAN W. WHITTAKER
"I am grateful to the electors of Saanich for returning me as their representative in the House," stated Norman W. Whitaker, on learning of his election last night. "I trust I shall deserve the confidence they have reposed in me."

FLOW NEARLY STOPPED
PARIS, Nov. 2 (AP).—Gold in the Bank of France melted today to its lowest point since May, but the flow was reported to be almost stopped.

Simultaneously, bankers said they understood the Federal Reserve Bank began buying with the purchase of a small amount from the Bank of France, and Premier Albert Sarraut issued a Ministerial declaration France is determined to stand by the gold standard.

The gold reserve has decreased by 2,000,000,000 francs (now about

BREWING BARON IS VISITOR HERE

Head of General Brewing Corporation, Baron von Gontard, is a well-known sportsman in California, also a large shareholder in Coast Breweries, who is a visitor to Vancouver and Victoria, has just completed an inspection of the plants in Victoria and New Westminster, comments favorably on the excellent malt beverages produced in British Columbia. He is the grandson of Adolphus Busch, founder of the world-famous Anheuser-Busch Brewery, in St. Louis, and has enjoyed an adventurous career.

Coming to the United States eleven years ago, the baron, who is still under forty years of age, engaged in active business with one of the Anheuser-Busch subsidiaries, and only recently severed his connection to become president of the General Brewing Corporation of San Francisco. This company is constructing the most modern plant on the Pacific Coast, which will be a model of its kind.

Baron von Gontard is a keen polo player, as well as big game hunter, and eight years ago traveled into the Omineca country and across to Alberta. He is very enthusiastic about the wonderful hunting possibilities in British Columbia, and intends coming North next year for the big game.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 2 (AP).—Charles Summerell, Little Rock, Ark., chalked up a new tournament high run in defeating Arthur Church, New York, in the first of today's matches in the national pocket billiards meet here.

Summerell's run of 56 eclipsed a 55 established by George Kelly, Philadelphia, yesterday. Summerell defeated Church, 125 to 82, in 19 innings.

Sylvester Schlessman, Minneapolis, broke a three-day tie for the tournament lead when he defeated champion Wm. Mosconi, Philadelphia, 125 to 82, in 19 innings.

REASONS FOR LOSS

This latter loss was attributed to a heavy flight of capital; to the recent Cabinet crisis, and withdrawal by gold bloc nations of their loans at the Bank of France was taken by exchange operators as evidence that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation had indicated to the bank it did not intend to buy heavily in Paris.

NO SIGN OF MOVE

LONDON, Nov. 2 (AP).—Although the financial world here was all set today for some definite development in the American policy of buying gold abroad, the day passed without any sign of a move towards gold purchases from across the water.

All gold marketed here went to the Continent, as has been usual of late, and, although there were rumors at least some buying might be for American account, there was nothing locally to substantiate this.

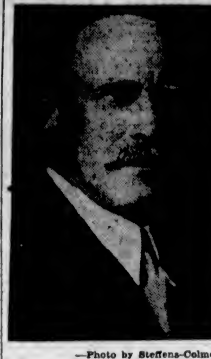

Bank of England quarters had nothing to say, and interested circles were left guessing as to what the actual situation might be.

DOLLAR WEAKER

The American dollar was somewhat weaker on the exchange market than yesterday. After the bank closed, the quotation moved $4.82 5-8, the day's lowest rate, indicating there was continuing uncertainty.

American currency closed offically 27.8 cents cheaper in relation to the pound after comparatively lively dealings within a narrow range. It finished at its opening price, $4.82 to the pound, compared to overnight quotation of $4.79 1-8. On talk of American gold

CONTINENTAL BUYING

The usual Continental buyers were said to have taken 400,000 ounces of gold at 133s 3d an ounce. This represents a premium of 12 1/2d on the price, which would be fixed on a basis of the French franc at 79.50—mainly 132 1/2d—owing to competition for supplies it advanced to 133s.

Tom Mann Allowed to Remain in Canada Ten Days

VANCOUVER, Nov. 2 (CP).—Tom Mann, fiery British labor leader, who arrived here yesterday from Seattle, has been granted a ten-day extension to his intended stay in Canada, and will speak in Calgary, Winnipeg, Toronto and Montreal.

He applied for and received permission to enter Canada for one day and was originally scheduled to return to Seattle today.

Mr. Mann will speak in Calgary, November 4, and in Winnipeg, November 7.

GRID STAR PLAYS MINUS HIS SHOES

ST. PAUL, Nov. 2 (AP).—Coach Bill Williams, of Hamilton University, has just about decided to let James Kinney have his way. The 140-pound reserve halfback from Hawaii insists on playing barefooted, especially when kicking the ball.

Every time Williams leaves, Kinney quickly takes off his shoes and runs through formations and boots the ball.

"He is quite efficient at kicking, even without his shoes," Williams said. "He drops kicks the ball thirty-five and forty yards consistently, and gets more accuracy barefooted."

Birthday of B.C. to Be Celebrated at Empress

Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., Makes Plans for Anniversary Tea—Parcels Will Be Sent to Peace River

Arrangements for the commemoration of the historic date kept yearly by the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, in November, were made at the meeting held yesterday, when it was decided to hold a tea on Saturday, November 18, in the ballroom of the Empress Hotel, at which there will be a special speaker and a charming programme of folk dances and songs.

As the event commemorated actually occurred on November 19, 1845, which this year falls on Sunday, the meeting decided upon Saturday afternoon as most suitable for the tea, to which the public is invited.

HISTORIC DATE
Mrs. R. B. McKinnon drew attention to the recent commemoration of the birthday of Fort Langley, which goes back 100 years, and it was in that important place where the event occurred on November 19, which the chapter celebrates every year.

A most interesting and impressive paper was read by Mrs. A. R. Mackenzie on "Conditions of Women in India," and Mrs. F. G. Berton moved a hearty vote of appreciation to Mrs. Mackenzie for her instructive paper, which was endorsed by the meeting. The chapter voted contributions to work in India, to the Mary Croft Memorial, to the National Endowment Fund, and the Cadets' Trophy, also a special donation of $2.50 to the Municipal Chapter Secondary Education Fund, for which an appeal was brought in by the educational secretary, Mrs. Berton. A $10 wreath will be purchased, to be placed on the War Memorial on Remembrance Day, by the soldiers' graves convener, Mrs. T. B. Monk.

SYMPATHY EXPRESSIONS
Letters of sympathy in bereavement were sent to Mrs. Mortimer Appleby, and to Miss Little Brown, and flowers and an expression of sympathy to Mrs. R. L. Phillips.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

THE SHORT SHOE IS YOUR ENEMY

In examining recruits for overseas service many young men of fair physique were rejected because they had simply made the mistake of wearing for a number of years shoes that were too short for them. The result was that the toes were pushed so closely together that certain deformities occurred which rendered the recruit, however willing to serve, absolutely useless for marching or regular military work.

If the toes cannot lie their full length in the shoe with plenty of room to spread as the weight of the body comes on the toes to push you forward in walking, then trouble and deformities must result.

One of these is the large "bunion" as it is called, where the bone on the inner side of the sole meets the big toe outward and the big bunion stands out in all its glory.

The hammer toe is another serious condition. The short shoe so cramps up the toes that they never straighten out. After months or years of wearing the short shoes, the joints of the toes cannot straighten out, and on top of each of these "bunions" toes, a painful corn from pressure is found.

Still another serious condition caused by short shoes is the forcing down of the front arch of the foot so that the bones at the front end of the bones in the sole of foot are actually in contact with the ground, causing the large painful callouses so often seen.

So serious is this condition that the pain, weakness and "nervousness" caused by it have sent thousands of sufferers to medical men and others, who simply push this arch upward with the thumb and at the same time pull the toes downward, thus in some cases, raising the arch back into position for the time being at least. Exercises and proper shoes may help to keep the arch up into position.

Now as I have said before, the feet are worth about as much to us as our heads in earning a living. If we take care of them we get a joy out of living. If we neglect them Nature makes us pay the debt.

Walking on the outside of the foot as much as possible, raising on the toes, and other exercises strengthen the feet and keep them pliable.

The greatest enemy of the feet is the short shoe.

ANNIVERSARY IS OBSERVED

James Bay United Remembers Its Fortieth Birthday With Special Celebration

James Bay United Church was taxed to its capacity when the Ladies' Aid provided a very excellent turkey supper in celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the church. The tables were decorated with marigolds and chrysanthemums, tastefully arranged by Mrs. Lorimer.

The programme which followed included Miss Doris Rawlins, whose beautiful rendering of "The Morning Wind," "Your Smile," is well known in the musical circles of Victoria and his delightful singing is always welcome at James Bay. Both the artists were accompanied by Mrs. Trevor Fisher, Mrs. Gordon Downes, in her inimitable style, told of her experiences in the hands of the medical fraternity and the hospitals, and literally brought the house down.

MEMBERS SPEAK

A few remarks were then heard from Mrs. Noble, who was associated with the church at the time of its erection, followed by A. C. Charlton, who was a member of the church board at that time; also Mrs. G. C. Cay and Mrs. Gilbert, two other pioneers present.

Rev. W. R. Brown, the minister, as chairman, presented Mrs. T. Southern with a floral bouquet as a token of appreciation of her work in the church, especially thanking her for her generosity in complying with the many requests for her talents as a singer. Mrs. Southern's singing is in great demand in the church, and she is ever ready to give of her best.

REV. DR. W. G. WILSON

Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, guest speaker, who in high appreciation of the work of the church and of its present minister, mentioning its wonderful opportunities for good in the James Bay district, this being the only church in this area.

As the concluding item of the programme, the guests were entertained by Major Kirkpatrick-Crockett, who spoke on the "Navy at Zebruge," showing on the screen pictures of one of the most glorious incidents in the annals of the British navy, the successful blockading of the canal at Zebruge. Major Crockett, in his lecture, pointed out that although such wonderful courage should not be forgotten, war in general is a terrible and needless expenditure of human lives and money.

Little Theatre Plans Progress Meeting Hears

At an emergency meeting of the Little Theatre Association last night, held for the purpose of stimulating the associate-membership campaign, progress was reported, and further plans were discussed. These include a bridge party, for the two-fold object of promoting membership and promoting the social atmosphere of the club, and the forthcoming association fixtures, the regular meeting on Tuesday, November 12, at which the one-act play, "Psychological Moment," an incident supposedly from the life of Mme. Du Barry, and a radio play, "In the Mine," will be given. At this meeting Mrs. Gwen Cash, late of the Vancouver Little Theatre Association, will give a short talk on "Play Analysis."

In a cleverly-designed mimeograph folder, prepared by Miss V. M. Monk for the society, a list of plays produced since the inception of the organization in 1929, was given. In calling attention to this the president, H. S. Hurn, expressed considerable satisfaction that so much had been accomplished, viz. twelve one-act plays and six major productions. The association had endeavored to produce a constant stream of plays, although a constant difficulty was to find something for which the royalty was not too high.

Among the forthcoming productions is the old classic, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," to be given at the Royal Victoria Theatre, December 28 and 29. Other plays in contemplation are "The Jade God," by William Barry, and, for a single night's

TWO YEARS old is this brown and white blouse. You wouldn't guess it—Chipso has kept the colors so clear and fresh!

CHIPSO gets these slip-covers clean without hard rubbing. No color—running—no streaks in the wide beige stripes.

AFTER nine washings, this sheer blue print is still Jane's "Sunday dress." It shows how kind Chipso is to colors.

WITHOUT FADING, this green linen suit has been soaked shining clean in Chipso a dozen times.

TODAY is Dicky's first birthday, but his Chipso-washed yellow rompers are more than a year old. Bobby used to wear them!

CHIPSO'S SAFETY for wools is shown by Billy's year-old tweed shorts—soft and unshrunken after many a plunge in Chipso suds.

NO RAVELINGS at the elbows or cuffs of this blouse which has been soaked snowy in Chipso regularly for a year.

"Thank goodness, Chipso hustles dirt out of clothes without being rough," says mother of five active "dirt-catchers"

All the while we were taking this picture, Mrs. John F. Ryan's youngest—one year old that very day!—really wanted to be at his daily job of mopping up the floor with his rompers! Sister too, who is seven, and the two-, four-, and five-year-old boys, had given up pressing engagements with dump trucks, go-cycles and attractive mud-holes to "stay clean this morning."

"I wash every day for the baby," Mrs. Ryan told us, "and do a big weekly wash of grimy blouses, trousers and underwear. I depend on CHIPSO for everything—the heavy washing as well as the light—blankets, curtains, cleaning, dishes. I use a package or more every week.

"Chipso certainly soaks dirt out! Even on my husband's work clothes (he is a carpenter and builder) I don't put in any extra rubbing. They come out as nice as can be. Yet Chipso leaves colors as bright as new. It is safe even for my silk stockings and the children's nicest woollens."

We looked at two sweaters of Jane's—one green—the other peach-colored—both soft and pretty although they had been washed and washed in Chipso for over a year.

"Chipso doesn't bother my hands, either—that shows how safe it is," Mrs. Ryan said.

"I've certainly given Chipso a thorough trial in the last seven years and I call it a work-saver as well as a real clothes-saver."

CHIPSO is quick, yet SAFE because it is SOAPIER! It is not adulterated with harsh, "dirt-cutting" ingredients which weaken materials and injure colors. When you see what white washes you can put out with Chipso, and how much longer your clothes stay new-looking, you will agree that the big package of Chipso at its low price is the best value in rich, safe soap you have ever had. Tell your grocer you want CHIPSO!

What Today Means

"SCORPIO"

If November 3 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7 to 8:10 a.m., from 11 to 12 noon and from 5:45 to 6:50 p.m. The danger periods are from 9:30 to 10 a.m., from 3:30 to 4 p.m. and from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

You will be inclined on this day not to stand up for your own rights; do not "take it on the chin" for any reason at all, for you will establish a bad precedent and others will be inclined to "take you for a ride" as well. Sweethearts will be most easily embarrassed on this date and will probably be in for a lot of teasing. The child born on this November 3 will have a way of getting what it wants without being "sugary sweet" or fighting for it. He will "get by" wherever he is and will make many friends. Inclined to be a bit bossy and to try to run the neighborhood. Boys will tend to pick fights without reason and will be good fighters. If November 3 is the date of your birth, it is probable that you have a brain that is more than normally active and a good healthy body that will stand a lot of hard work and long hours. You will be pretty much on the go all your life; office hours will mean nothing to you, for you will look on work as encompassing more than what is paid for. Inclined to be able to turn out in eight hours at some office. You are inclined to feel that the real work that you have to do is to fulfill your obligation to God and to mankind; hence, it is a twenty-four hour a day job. There is little question about your succeeding in your business activities. You have the qualities that make for success, honesty, friendliness, sincerity, willingness to work hard, thoroughness and the ability to think at your work. Born on November 3, you will be well occupied away from the office.

As a member of various clubs and organizations, many of them of a charitable nature, your time will be well filled. You enjoy committee work as long as it is of a constructive nature. You interest yourself in people and organizations that are really trying to do something of value. You have little time for amusements as such; you get most of your pleasure from your activities. To be able to help someone in some way makes you feel that you are really living. You are big hearted, kind and gentle.

You will never grow up, for your heart is too light and gay and at a right ripe old age you will enjoy a frolic with your youngsters as well as a grand rough-house. "That was an excellent paper your daughter read last night on the 'Influence of Science as Applied to Practical Government.'" "Was it? Well, I wish she'd find out something about the 'Influence of the Vacuum Cleaner as Applied to the Dining-Room Carpet.'" "pet."

TAX COLLECTIONS EXCEED ESTIMATE

Oak Bay Receipts Most Gratifying. R. F. Blandy, Municipal Clerk, Tells Council

Tax collections in Oak Bay are surpassing all expectations, R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk, reported to the council yesterday evening. Tax arrears particularly are being paid up. Two-year arrears show a collection of $8,500 to date as compared with $8,000, which was the estimate for the entire year.

Three-year arrears show a collection of $4,000 as against $7,000, the estimate for the whole year. This makes the surplus of estimates $1,500, with two more months to which to collect before final figures are compiled.

Great for children

CHILDREN certainly do like Kellogg's Whole Wheat Flakes. And of course there's nothing better for them than whole wheat.

You'll also be delighted with the economy of the big red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ont.

NEW!
SUPER-CRISP
WHEAT

"Let me kiss those tears away, sweetheart," he begged tenderly. She fell into his arms, and he was very busy for a few moments. But the tears flowed on.

"Will nothing stop them?" he asked, breathlessly.

"No," she murmured. "It's my fever, but go on with the treatment."

"Extra! a good shot with a rifle." "Yep, he hits 'No Hunting' signs at 300 yards."

Would your complexion stand this searching gaze?

At the Theatres

TEXAS GUINAN IS SHOW IN HERSELF

Queen of New York Night Clubs to Appear Here Personally at Empire on Monday

Although accompanied by more than forty entertainers, Texas Guinan, known as the "Queen of New York Night Clubs," is a show in herself. Miss Guinan will appear here at the Empire Theatre, commencing Monday, for four days, with her revue, "A Century of Whoopee," direct from the Chicago Fair.

Famous for her ability to keep on the front page, Texas is equally well known because of her greeting, "Hello, sucker." She operates one of the biggest and most talked of night clubs in New York, situated on Eighth Avenue, just off Broadway.

Miss Guinan has been acclaimed by leading New York columnists on her ability to "put over" a song. She will sing several of her specialty numbers when she shows up in Victoria.

Another feature of the revue is the fan dance presentation of Judith Dean, black-haired chorine, and Esther Lloyd. Difficult team dancing will be demonstrated by Easter and Hazelton, who appeared in the recent Ziegfeld Follies.

Ralph Cook, styled the "world's funniest man," headlines the comedy act with Miss Guinan's show. Forty of the most beautiful girls in the Guinan New York establishment have been accompanying the show and will also appear at the Empire.

"The Bowery" to Be at Capitol

Those who like the old-time tunes of the '20's and '30's, such as "Tara-ra Boom De-Ay," "Strike Up the Band, Here Comes a Sailor," and "Goodbye, Dolly Gray," will get their fill of them in "The Bowery," rip-roaring romantic comedy-drama of the bad old days, showing at the Capitol Theatre Saturday.

"The Bowery," a colorful pageant of a by-gone era that was excruciatingly funny from the modern viewpoint, is the first picture from the great new studios of Twentieth Century Pictures for United Artists release. For this production, M.G.M. loaned their stars, Wallace Beery and Jackie Cooper, Paramount loaned George Raft, and Fox Studios loaned its ace director, Raoul Walsh. Ray Way, under contract to Twentieth Century, and Pert Kelton provide the romantic interest.

"F.P." will be shown for the last times today.

SYMPHONY GROUP TO PLAY HERE SHORTLY

Some very thorough work has been done during rehearsals by the Vancouver Symphony Group, which will appear here November 13, at the Royal Theatre. Between concerts many of these rehearsals are held in sections, after the pattern of some famous organizations such as the Amsterdam Symphony which, in this manner, was able to build up its proficiency and reputation for perfection.

Division during these rehearsals goes as far as separate practice of first violins alone for fully three hours during a morning rehearsal. In the afternoon it is the turn of the second violins; next day the violas in the morning and the violoncello in the afternoon, and so on until each department of the orchestra is thoroughly familiar with its part. After this has been achieved, the first full rehearsal is called, and the ensemble is established.

In the second rehearsal, the shading and expression of the music are worked out.

COLUMBIA The thrilling, mile-a-minute action melodrama, "State Trooper," which has been delighting the Columbia Theatre audiences for the past two days, closes its run tomorrow. Handoms Regis Toomey and the alluring blonde, Evelyn Knapp, supply the intriguing love interest in this dramatization of industrial conflict in the California oil industry, while Matthew Betz, Walter McGrath, Barbara Weeks, Raymond Hatton and Don Chapman round out a perfectly balanced cast.

DOMINION "Name it and you can have it," said the Fox Company to William Rogers when they bought James Gould Cozzens' best-seller novel, "The Last Adam." Rogers named it "Dr. Bull" and proceeded to make the genial doctor one of his best screen characterizations, truly as great and as human as his role in "State Fair." "Dr. Bull" is showing at the Dominion Theatre.

PLAN RESTORING OF CONFIDENCE

Rotary International Has Well Digested Line of Action for Canadians

The plans in view by the Canadian advisory committee of Rotary International were presented before the members of the local club yesterday when William Mainwaring, of Vancouver, a member of that committee, outlined the details agreed upon. He set out that the success of the plan worked out at the representative gathering of the committee in Toronto depended upon how far the members of the individual clubs were prepared to go in accomplishing the end aimed at. The programme was a national one, applying from coast to coast.

Mr. Mainwaring stressed the importance of establishing confidence in the business relations throughout the Dominion were essential to economic recovery. Lack of this confidence, he said, had in large measure brought about the present conditions.

HISTORY OF COMMITTEE

The Canadian advisory committee had been established in 1910 as a result of the feeling that existed that there was need of such a body for the purpose of studying the national problems in their relation to international matters. When carried out, it was with the endorsement of the international headquarters. The members up to 1919 were selected by the international president, but following that the personnel was selected by the Canadian delegates present at the international convention.

The committee is advisory in its character and submits to the international board at Chicago for approval, the decisions reached, which, when approved, are passed on to the Canadian local clubs.

CAREFULLY CONSIDERED

The programme for this year had resulted from two days of arduous work on the part of the delegates to the gathering in Toronto. There were mixed views held when the convention opened. They had, however, come to one conclusion as to the need of the time and this was to attempt restoration of confidence in a national way.

The speaker went into details connected with the ideas behind the project, stating that in Vancouver there had been concrete results attained by the establishment of the business ethics in certain lines of trade. He urged that the inherent stability of the Dominion should be impressed upon the members and through them to the various lines of trade and industry.

IMPORTANT GAMES BILLED IN C.C. TOMORROW

Daily Colonist Fivepin Trundlers Set New City Single Game Record

Newspapermen Roll 1,347 to Shatter Former High Mark

Colonist Five Bowls in Sensational Form to Beat Mark Set by Huskies Two Years Ago by Single Point—Also Establish Record for Three-Game Total at Arcade Alleys

The team record for Senior City Fivepin League bowling was shattered yesterday at the Arcade Alleys when The Daily Colonist five scattered 1,347 pins around the pils. In addition to establishing a new city mark, the newspapermen set a new record for the Arcade Alleys both for a single and three-game total. The previous best score was made by the Huskies at Olympic Alleys two years ago when they toppled 1,346 pins.

Rolling against Fall Mall in the second game of their fixture, the newbies started off in great fashion and continued until the final frame was rolled. Bill Norris was high man, with 312, and was followed closely by the Veteran Bill Youhill, with 301. Jimmy Hough had 297, Hugh MacCallum, 231, and Bill Dunn, 206, in their record-breaking performance.

The Colonist's three-game total, which shattered a record of many years' duration for the Arcade Alleys, was 3,353. It beat the old mark by over fifty.

Snowfall Greet B.C. Gridders on Calgary Arrival

CALGARY, Nov. 2 (CP).—A heavy fall of snow tonight greeted Vancouver Meralomas, British Columbia Rugby champions, when they stepped off the train from Vancouver ready to tackle Calgary Alouettes in the Western Canada semi-final on Saturday. They were assured the field will be cleared of snow if the fall halts before the game.

WINOOKA IS MOST SOUGHT IN THE EAST

Australian Horse Attracts Attention After First Victory in United States

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 2 (CP).—With the skeptics driven to cover, Winooka, champion speedster of Australia, today was the most sought after racer in Eastern United States. With Maryland authorities clamoring for a match between the Aussie and the American top-notchers, Mate and Jamsdown, was announced Winooka had been definitely entered in the international speed test, six-furlong dash arranged as the feature of the one-day meeting at Belmont Park November 7.

Reports persisted today Winooka may be sold. It is understood Manager Rufe Taylor wants to dispose of him and there are plenty of potential buyers, but Trainer Michael Polson says: "Nix, he's going back home."

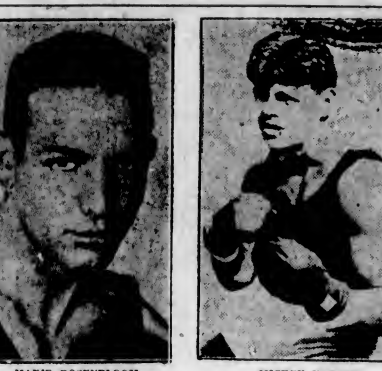

ANOTHER RACE Winooka will be back for another special at Pimlico a week from today, according to Rufe Taylor, manager of the five-year-old sprint champion from down under.

The Pimlico race, an invitation affair, was arranged late today. It will be run over a mile and seventy yards. The Maryland Jockey Club has offered a $2,500 purse for the special and set the entrance fee at $250. The horses to be invited have not been named, but the field will be limited to five.

E. MALLEK SCORES DODO AT UPLANDS

E. Mallek, while playing with R. C. Elliott, J. S. MacLennan, L. Mallick and C. T. O'Neil, made a hole-in-one at the Uplands Golf Club. Mallek's shot was perfect, the ball lighting on the edge of the 202-yard fourth green and rolling into the cup.

In Title Bout Tonight

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP).—Mickey Walker, for fifteen years a fighting man, shoots for perhaps his last title tomorrow night in a fifteen-round light-heavyweight championship battle with Maxie Rosenbloom in Madison Square Garden. Rosenbloom, the slapper, is a decided favorite. Maxie is one of the ring's most dangerous characters when his title is at stake.

Mickey, aged thirty-two and near the end of the trail, has been training desperately for a month in an effort to regain the form that carried him into heavyweight conflict with Max Schmeling.

Eleven years ago Walker won the welterweight title. Then he took the middleweight crown from Tiger Flowers. For two years he was an outstanding heavy-weight contender and now he is after the light-heavyweight championship.

Rosenbloom, always a clever boxer despite his famous lack of a deadly punch, is especially good over the fifteen-round distance. Walker said he would quit the ring if beaten.

Simpson Looks to Rookies for Power in Hockey Campaign

Veteran Pilot Depending on Youngsters to Bring Him Through in National League—Has Plenty of Material on Hand—Three Stars Gone

OSHAWA, Ont., Nov. 2 (CP).—A lot of ivory has passed before the anxious eye of "Bullet Joe" Simpson in the last week or so, and the boss of New York's Americans, determined to send a real challenger into the National Hockey League campaign next week, is likely to keep a goodly amount of it on hand.

With three of his 1932 mainstays—Nick Wasie, Johnny Sheppard and Vernon Ayres—taken away from him, and apparently no cash at his disposal to buy experienced material, Simpson has looked to his training-camp rookies for strength. He seems to have found a fair amount.

"We have reserve strength to burn, and for the present we are concentrating on that feature of our team," he said in refusing to publicly separate the wheat from the chaff a week before the N.H.L. schedule opens.

YOUNG MATERIAL Joe has a few veterans and a great number of youngsters on his hands. Roy Worters is certain to play goal, and Normie Himes is sure to start at centre on one of the chief forward lines. Lloyd Gross, last season with Buffalo in the International League, and George Patterson, an experienced winger, are sure to be included in Joe's selection of those he will retain. So are Ronnie Martin and Red Dutton and Bill Brydger.

The rest is not so certain. Dutton, Brydger, Duke Dutkowiak and Chris Speyer may be the quartet of defencemen who will stay, but Bill Regan and Red Doran, minor league last season, are still fighting for berths. There is both quantity and quality in the forward lines.

Himes, Patterson and Red Conn, who scored thirty-one points for Philadelphia in the Canadian-American League last season, have been working on one forward line. On another are Martin, Klein, last year with Boston Cubs, and Jackson, the International League's leading scorer in 1932.

FRONT LINES The immediate question would seem to be to get out on more strong front line. Simpson has worked with the Calgary amateurs, Fred Herget and Dave Schriener, with Lloyd Jackson, on one line. One of the flashiest of all is the trio of Red Jackson, the veteran Charlie McVeigh, and Picketts, a recruit from New Haven.

Jack Keating, tiny stonkingling expert from Seattle; Loggie Kuhn, Truro, N.S., winger, and Ed Convey, of Toronto, form still another attacking flank. Keating and Kuhn finished last season with the Americans.

Indications were Marty Roberts, goaltender with New Haven last season, will be carried as a substitute for Worters. Americans are not operating the New Haven Gross, as a farm this season, and the players to which "Bullet Joe" keeps strings attached will be loaned to the best advantage.

U.S. May Adopt Metric System For Athletics

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (AP).—A strong fight on the use of the metric system in track and field is indicated for the coming annual meeting of the United States Amateur Athletic Union at Pittsburgh, in the report today of the legislation committee, which shows two strong district associations opposed to its retention.

The metropolitan and New England Associations will move for its repeal at the meeting in Pittsburgh on November 19, 20 and 21.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Nov. 2 (AP).—Bill Miller, Stanford's 1932 Olympic Games pole-vaulting champion, announced today he had hung up his spikes for all time. ### TWO STAKES TO FEATURE AT TANFORAN

Two Big Events Carded in South Saturday and Sunday

TANFORAN, Calif., Nov. 2. —Two stakes, this week-end, will be offered at Tanforan, and the huge crowds which welcomed the start of the Fall meeting, November 1, probably will be eclipsed on Saturday and Sunday. The forty-day season introduces the pari-mutuel method of wagering in California for the first time on a major racetrack.

Charity will be aided on Sunday, November 5, when the Community Chest Handicap will be run. The entire gate receipts will be given to the Community Chest, and the racing officials will donate their salaries for the day.

The Handicap, over the short six-furlong A. B. Spreckels course, will bring into action some of the fastest sprinters in the West. The feature carries an added money value of $2,000.

Two-year-old stars will race on Saturday, November 4, in the Juvenile Stakes, also over the Spreckels course, with $2,000 added. Interest, to an extent, will be based upon the clash of many of the West's best youngsters against speedy Eastern juveniles.

Judge Christopher J. Fitzgerald, director of racing, and recognized as one of racing's outstanding officials, was being congratulated for the smooth functioning of the new pari-mutuel system.

STAMMING OUT DOPING Public and horsemen alike welcomed the introduction of the horse receiving barn, which safeguards thoroughbreds from being tampered with and helps stamp out the use of narcotics. This is the first time that this feature was used on a race track on this continent.

Another feature which met with the approval of the fans was the posting of the pari-mutuel calculating sheets, showing in detail how the mutual prices are figured.

Henry Potter Russell, chairman of the new advisory board, and Ralph C. MacArthur, general manager of the track, expressed pleasure at the fine manner in which the resumption of the sport was received.

MONTREAL, Nov. 2 (CP).—Montreal Canadiens, of the National Hockey League, last night announced they were sending seven players to Providence, of the Canadian-American Hockey League, and were unconsciously releasing an eighth player. Those slated for Providence are Art Alexandre, Leo Gaudreault, Hago Harrington, Art Ciroux, Gus Hart, Gus Rivers and Art Lesieur.

Pet Palangio, last year with Syracuse in the International League, is again a free agent.

Scores Four Triples in Single Week

A heavyweight fight in all probability will take place between Oscar Mortimore, a colored boxer of some reputation in the pugilistic world, and Alex McNamee, formerly of Work Point Barracks, at an early date. The former, with his manager, W. Allen, called at The Coliseum office last night and requested an announcement to the effect that Mortimore would challenge McNamee to a fifteen or twenty-round bout to be staged here, such a date as will give both boxers a reasonable period for training.

Robert Powell, formerly of Victoria, and now a resident of London, England, where he is studying for the bar, who held the tennis championship of the Northwest before leaving for the Old Country, is continuing to meet with success in the tennis world, winning several trophies just before the season closed. Powell is a great player, having reached the semi-finals of the last Wimbledon meet.

Hockey Teams to Play Sixteen at Home Encounters

EDMONTON, Nov. 2 (CP).—Sixteen home games, instead of eighteen, as set in a tentative schedule, will prevail in the Northwestern Professional Hockey League this Winter, it is understood here. This change follows strong protests lodged against President Gordon B. Lester's tentative schedule sent to club owners recently.

Gordon "Duke" Keas, manager of Edmonton Eskimos, and Lloyd Turner, Calgary Tigers' mentor, were among those who protested. In reply, Lester is understood to have suggested a thirty-two-game schedule, instead of thirty-six.

ARSENAL XI OUT TO REGAIN LEADERSHIP IN FIRST DIVISION

Gunners Will Field Regular Team Against Portsmouth—Tottenham Hotspurs Facing Tough Assignment in West Bromwich Albions—Motherwell Plays Dundee in Scotland

LONDON, Nov. 2 (CP).—The Arsenal English Soccer League champions, will take on Portsmouth Saturday in a valiant effort to get back into leadership of the league. Gunners will be on their own grounds and will field their regular eleven. Portsmouth's single will also be unchanged from last Saturday.

Meanwhile, Tottenham Hotspurs, leaders for some weeks, travel West Bromwich Albion for no easy engagement. Spurs must win or at least tie to stay in front, unless the Gunners are beaten.

"Dixie" Dean, Everton's great international player, will be given a hearty welcome when he steps on the field again at home against Huddersfield Town, for the first time since September 23. He was injured then and has since been operated on, with four pieces of bone being taken from his left ankle. He will captain the side. Huddersfield incidentally have a mathematical chance to tie for the leadership.

GREGG TO PLAY Gregg formerly of Sheffield Wednesday, will be playing for Chelsea in place of the injured inside left, Gibson, against his former teammates at the Wolves at Saturday's game. Stoke City will use nineteen-year-old Frank Soo, son of a Chinese laundryman, at inside left in their battle with Middlesbrough. Another change sees Wood, Scottish-American leftback, playing for Leicester City at Derby County.

Port Vale and Bolton Wanderers will probably break their deadlock for leadership of the Second Division one way or the other Saturday. Port Vale are home to Oldham Athletic and Wanderers travel to Southampton. Fulham are bringing back Price, their inside left, for the game with Manchester United, whose side is unchanged. Dr. Mackenzie, the Scottish amateur international outside left, will help Hull against Plymouth.

Charlton Athletic, Norwich City and Crystal Palace, sharing top berth in the Southern section of the Third Division, all have separate engagements Saturday. Queen's Park Rangers and Charlton will be at full strength for their local derby. In the Northern section, Chesterfield, well in the lead, expect no trouble with Rotherham.

SCOTTISH LEAGUE

GLASGOW, Nov. 2 (CP).—Motherwell look forward confidently to hanging up their fourth trophy, extending their unbeaten record, when they clash with Dundee, Saturday. Motherwell have a four-point advantage over Rangers, league and Glasgow Cup champions.

Rangers, however, expected to keep within striking distance of the leaders by annexing a couple of points at the expense of the locally eleven, will travel to Glasgow for Saturday's game.

In the much closer race in the Second Division, Greenock Morton, relegated from the First Division this season, have a chance to climb into the top position. Tied with King's Park, only a point behind Stenhousemuir, Morton battle the leaders.

Remember When TIGERS SIGN TEN PLAYERS

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

The Victoria West and the Garrison soccer teams played to a draw in a local league match which took place yesterday afternoon, before a small crowd, at the Royal Athletic Park grounds. The goals were secured by each squad, the final one of which was converted by the West's a few minutes before the final whistle. Without a doubt it was a narrow escape for the green-jerseyed team from the western district. The grounds were in bad condition from recent rains and the players found it hard to keep on their feet. Ed Whyte refereed and the teams lined up as follows: Victoria West—Beane; White and Prevost; Hall, Petticrew and Cooper; Tait, O'Neil, Sedger, Kroeger and Bridgen; Gairson—Jones; Sullivan and Diegan; Dunn; P. Buxton and O'Leary; Carrod; Thomas, Elton, Carter and F. Buxton.

The Ladysmith soccer squad was badly beaten in a Pacific Coast League fixture on the Mainland by the Vancouver entry by a 5 to 0 score yesterday. The Island team had excuses, however, Jimmy Adam, Petticrew and Cooper, Tait, O'Neil, Sedger, Kroeger and Bridgen, Gairson—Jones; Sullivan and Diegan; Dunn; P. Buxton and O'Leary; Carrod; Thomas, Elton, Carter and F. Buxton.

ESQUIMALT TO MEET WESTS IN MAIN SOCCER GAME

Top Position Will Be At Stake Tomorrow In Coast Football

Joint Occupants of Premier Berth to Battle in Important Fixture at Beacon Hill—City to Meet Thistles—Two Second Division Games Are Scheduled

Esquimalt, last year's champions, and Victoria West, joint occupants of the premier berth, will clash in the main attraction on the Pacific Coast Football League programme, tomorrow afternoon, on the lower Beacon Hill Park grounds. Victoria City and Saanich Thistles will hook up in the other first division fixture at Heywood Avenue pitch, while two second division matches will round out the day's activities. In the latter section, Victoria West and Esquimalt will meet at Beacon Hill, while City and Thistles will battle it out at upper Beacon Hill. All games will commence at 2:45 o'clock.

Dave Swan has been assigned to handle the dockers-West match, while Frank Saunders will be in charge at Heywood Avenue. R. M. Robb will referee at the upper Hill, and Ralph Alock at the upper Hill.

IMPORTANT GAME
With undisputed top place at stake, a large crowd is expected to journey to the Hill to watch Esquimalt and the greenhairs fight it out. In their last meeting the Wests took a 2-0 lead in the first half, but were forced to divide the points at the finish as the dockers ran in a pair of markers in the final half to gain a draw. Keen rivalry exists between the two clubs and therefore another hard battle is expected to hold sway during the ninety minutes.

Last week the Wests nosed out the Thistles by a 3-2 score in a somewhat ragged exhibition, while Esquimalt took the points from Victoria City in another listless exhibition. Rumors have it that the greenhairs will be trotting out another goalie this week. Just who he will be will not be known until the line-up is announced. Surely in need of a first class net custodian, Doc Poynts has been trying out new material and has yet to land a regular. The Wests marched out Ken Thompson, stellar little fullback, against the Thistles, and the youngster turned in a strong defensive game throughout, while Ernie Loranini appeared at right half for the first time this season, and was one of the best men on the field. This pair should strengthen the club in their bid for the first half honors.

NEED VICTORY
Victoria City will be after victory against the Thistles, one which, if it comes off, will put them right in the thick of the scramble for the championship. After setting back the Wests, 4-1, the City failed to get going last week and dropped the decision to the dockers. It is hoped that the Saanich eleven arrive on time this week, as last Saturday they were twenty-five minutes holding the game up, and then only started with half a team. The fans were disappointed at the tardiness of the suburban club, and then more so at the miserable exhibition put up by both clubs.

Line-ups follow:
Saanich Thistles (second division)—Morrison, A. Campbell, Duncan, Shouldice, Mowat, Gent, Embrey, McCall, Campbell, Chapman, D. Mowat, Ewing, Hayward, Williams, Emery.

Victoria West (first division)—Griffiths, Ockell, Storey, Cockin, Barnes, Stewart, Youson, Muir, Robinson, Betteridge, Collins, Gibbons, A. Loranini and A. Poynts.

Victoria City, Division I—Farguhar, Moody, Harper, Smith, Magee, Pepin, A. Murray, Sage, McMillan, McKay, Vickers, J. Murray, Woodley, Holness. Players are asked to meet at the Veterans of France at 2 o'clock.

City, Division II—Wensley, Coates, D. Robertson, Edwards, Bell, Hess, A. Robertson, Walters, Stewart, McEllen, Carr, Parker. Players are to be at Veterans of France at 2 o'clock.

DEMPSEY KAYOES ANOTHER MATMAN

Former Heavyweight Champion Futs Away Wrestler When He Disables Warning

ALEXANDRIA, La., Nov. 2 (AP).—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, informally came out of retirement last night to score a technical knockout in what started as a wrestling match, and ended in a slugging bee.

Refereeing a match between two wrestlers, Dempsey socked Marshall Blackstock, of Chattanooga, Tenn., when he disregarded warnings to stop slugging and choking his opponent, George Cochran, of Houston, Texas.

Dempsey's punch—a straight jab with his right—opened a half-inch gash on Blackstock's face, after the wrestler had made several passes at the referee. Mike Nule, promoter, separated the participants and, with blood flowing freely, Blackstock was disqualified, and the bout awarded to Cochran.

After the bout, Dempsey and Cochran met at an informal party at the home of Mayor V. V. Lamkin, and Dempsey said he regretted having to use "such drastic measures."

Blackstock told Dempsey to "forget it," and they shook hands.

Soccer Chatter

By A.F.A.N.

City slipped badly in the first half last Saturday and again we were reminded of the sad fact that we still have to find an opportunist for centre forward.

In full in practically every paper in the Empire. And we are told that the crowd to a man were silent with astonishment and shame. We are also reminded that arguing with a referee is "ungentlemanly conduct." What would the F. A. say to a pop bottle?

Well, however much they may still be at odds on the Mainland, it appears that here the lion has lain down with the lamb—good luck to both of them. Victoria fans want football not arguments, and judging the way St. Saviours were sent back with a flea in their ear, we are going to get what we want.

Garrison seem to be resuming a mastery over the mid-weekers that they held some years ago in the days of Coulter, etc.

"Well, so they ought," said a sideline last week, "they told not, neither do they spin, yet Solomon in all his glory was not so well fed as they are."

Well, that's thirty for today folks, and remember Saturday at least one more goal per team.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE

"FROM HAND TO MOUTH"
People living from hand to mouth are a spectacle known probably to every age and every clime. The phrase is a popular one in modern speech to describe thriftlessness, a way of life that does not take into consideration the needs of tomorrow.

The allusion to food consumed as quickly as it comes to hand is of course obvious. The expression is not of modern inspiration, owing its origin to the sixteenth century Dr. Bartus in his famous "Divine Weekes and Workes."

YU'ANHEE SEE LAUGHS

by Sax Rohmer

CHAPTER XVII

As Yu'anhsee sat at a large writing table, he pressed a bell. Almost before his tapering finger was raised from the button, a Chinese servant entered and dropped on one knee, extending a silver tray upon which a paper lay. Taper fingers took the document, the servant bowed until his yellow face nearly touched the blue carpet, stood up and went out.

Yu'anhsee read:
 "No news of the Hangman. May take it for granted he is drowned."
 "Lee Chow has succeeded. The lady is on her way."

"Joseph, the new Armenian, did good work here."

"Mohammed reports Dawson Haig, chief inspector C.I.D., is dead. Joseph, recommended by Mohammed, joins up here in place of Fernand."

"R.M.S. Wallaroo in the Canal. British and American consuls Port Said very active."

"Position on Wallaroo strained in regard to doctor and madame, but legally secure."

"Ten Chow due at Kenah tomorrow five o'clock. Franz Hartog reports from Cairo."

"Polidos arrived Stamboul tonight."

Yu'anhsee removed his glasses. His oblique eyes became quite closed, and he remained motionless for several minutes, hissing softly. Then again he pressed the bell. The Chinese servant came instant to his summons.

"Effendi Aswami Pasha."

The servant bowed low and withdrew silently.

Port Said was seething with indignation. When towards dusk it became evident that Eileen Kearney had been abducted, for no other conclusion remained, both the American and the British consuls set to work in earnest.

The town was combed with a nicety calculated to discover a rat in a cornfield. But no trace could be found of the missing girl. Dr. Oestler's account of what had happened was simple enough. Miss Kearney had suggested walking along to the shop of the scent merchant, and he had accompanied her. The doctor's statement was confirmed both by the Greek scent merchant and by the Egyptian tax collector. Mr. Len Chow, it was learned from the Eastern Exchange, had caught the train to Cairo, only having had lunch in the hotel. Of Franz Hartog no trace could be found.

The news, of course, was known on board, and a state of consternation prevailed. Port Said was lying up to its ancient reputation. Every woman passenger who was ashore hurried back to the ship, as though the place had been in a state of siege.

Captain Peterson paced his cabin, his tanned, lined face aglow with anxiety. The company's agent sat at the desk, Shale, the British consul, standing beside him, and the American consul stood by the door.

"It's all very well, Mr. Forman," said Shale, addressing his American confrere. "But what can I do?"

"What can you do, sir?" the other retorted. "A young American citizen—daughter of my friend Kearney in Colombia—has been kidnapped in broad daylight, when she is in the company of a suspected person! What can you do?"

"Suspected, yes," cried the other desperately. "But that's not proof!"

"What puzzles me," the captain interjected, trying to pour oil on troubled waters, "is the absence of Inspector Haig. If we had the authority of Scotland Yard behind us, we might be able to act. Besides, what evidence do you have?"

"It's little enough," said the British consul—"unless he had added to it since this morning."

Mr. Forman's face was very stern. "In short, sir," he said, "you don't intend to take any steps about this gang of crooks you've got on board, although you know whatever the evidence may be, and I say damn the evidence—that they are certainly responsible?"

"But the inspector himself assured me that there was nothing to justify an arrest," said Captain Peterson.

"Another point: the attempt to murder Inspector Haig off her last night is good enough to show the type of desperados we're dealing with."

"That's true enough," the captain admitted. "But nobody on board ever saw the missing Chinaman speak to a soul except to the stewards."

"There's nothing," Shale explained wearily, "nothing whatever to connect him with the rest of the gang. Surely you can see that, Forman? I mean the attempted murder can't be used as evidence to hold these people."

Forman tugged savagely at his moustache. "That man Oestler is lying," he declared outright. "You all think the same as I do. How can I ever face Mike Kearney with a tale like this?"

Dr. Oestler had only just left the cabin, where he had been submitted to a close cross-examination on the exact circumstances of his visit to those two shops with Eileen. However, as the shopkeepers had been questioned and had confirmed his statement in every particular, there was nothing whatever to go upon. His papers were in order, or appeared to be. He had even produced correspondence which seemed to leave no doubt upon the point. And since he was certainly bound for Australia, common sense suggested that this part of his story, at least, was true.

The woman Edman produced a contract with an Australian vaudeville circuit and displayed a number of professional photographs, programmes and billing matter relating to recent engagements in Europe. She declared that although she had made the acquaintance of Dr. Oestler on board, she had never met him before.

The agent was in a quandary. To hold the ship meant transferring mails and a loss of thousands of pounds to the company. And if Eileen were found any time during the night, or early morning, she could quite easily be transported to Suva in time to rejoin the Wallaroo there. The suspects were actually on board.

"If only Inspector Haig would turn up!" Forman exclaimed irritably. "He may hold the clue to the situation."

"I'm putting all my faith in the inspector," the captain declared. "It's because he's evidently on the job that I still have hopes."

"But there's nothing to show," Forman cried, "that he's on the job at all. If I understand the situation, no one has seen this man Haig since he left the ship early this morning."

"It's my belief," said Captain Peterson, "that he was following Miss Kearney and Dr. Oestler."

"I agree with you, captain," cried the British consul. "Inspector Haig was following them. And I think may venture to hope that he's the only man who knows what actually took place. If it's an abduction, it's highly probable that he's in pursuit of the abductor."

"It's very odd he hasn't got in touch," Forman cut in.

"The agent nodded in agreement. 'I think that odd, too, captain,' he admitted. 'I don't care for the look of it. Assuming that the inspector witnessed this outrage—if an outrage has occurred—and went off in pursuit, he wouldn't do so without leaving some clue to his route in case he should fail. He was too experienced a man for that.'

"Might I ask, Mr. Dimes, the exact meaning of your remark?" Forman, a man of action, knew himself helpless, and he was getting angry.

"I'm evidently hazy for the moment," he admitted. "I don't care for the look of it. Assuming that the inspector witnessed this outrage—if an outrage has occurred—and went off in pursuit, he wouldn't do so without leaving some clue to his route in case he should fail. He was too experienced a man for that."
